The Net Climb for decks is one of our most popular items. It can be attached to our Garden Watchtower or Tree Deck (see elsewhere in the store), or any other new or existing deck.

The net is designed to dynamically move, a feature that becomes even more challenging when a number of kids are on the net at the same time.

This is a great upper body exercise, but because the ropes move, it's also great for developing balance, proprioception, grip, eye-hand coordination, and so on.

You do need a 6' fall zone all the way around this, but that fall zone can be shared with other fall zones (except for swing and slide fall zones).

Complete installation instructions are included, of course.
